- Proven and equipped methodology :
- Dalian Group recommends the use and implementation of instrumentation and analysis tools and analysis of applications Java/J2EE/Oracle/VEB .net adapted to the context and environment of the client. These tools, based, among other things, on the technology called <<Byte Code Injection>> allow to have full visibility into:
  - The behavior of the application.
  - Different Framework.
  - The application server.
  - JVM (all regardless of version and publisher)
  - The operating system (AIX, Solaris, Linux, Windows, ....)

- They thus ensure full transparency to the application and its components. The tools available allow the measure, consolidate and present, in the form of dashboards, metrics of application performance, such as:
- Middleware (connection pool, thread pools, time garbage collector ...)
- The system.
- This facilitates analysis, manipulation and correlation of events and thus increases the safety of the application.
